Hi! I'm Luiz Gouveia, Computer Software Engineering student.
It'll be a great honor to join your Front-End team.

My first contact with HTML took place in the 2000s through Microsoft Front Page software, used to make static pages and publish them in a Brazilian company directory.

Working in the artistic area, I acquired knowledge in design through image and video editing software like Adobe Photoshop, GIMP, Adobe After Effects and Wondershare Filmora X.

From 2016 to 2019 lived and worked in Australia. As soon as I returned to Brazil, started to study law where won a scholarship due to my performance as student.

Decided to become a programmer after getting touch with Python in May 2022. Since then, I've been programming daily what made me fascinated by Front End's world.

In less than 5 months of study have already built fully responsive websites and been working on the shopping cart in JavaScript to one of them.

The passion for programming made me also take the decision of going to Computer Software Engineering college.

I see this position as an excellent opportunity to have a place in the sun as a developer as well as generate value more than the company expects.

Please, don't hesitate to contact me if you need further information or clarification.
